

|                  |                                                                                                                 |
|------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Team number      | 27                                                                                                              |
| University       | Bern university of applied sciences                                                                             |
| Offence          | Violation according to D 10.4.1.                                                                                |
| Reason           | The data logger data showed, that the moving average of the TS voltage exceeded the maximum allowed TS voltage. |
| Decision         | DQ for the fastest valid acceleration run according to D 10.4.2.                                                |
| Protest deadline | 2026-07-15 08:00                                                                                                |